WELCOME!

Hey! How cute is this? I really wanted to share this song in a different way to any of the others bc it's so personal, kind of like a page out of my diary.

So ! though, why not create a cute little zine you guys can get involved in? I hope you love it and I hope you enjoy having it never say No" in your world.

this zine was brought to you by:

- binge watching the gilmore girls
- glittery blue eyeshadow
- some watercolours
- copious amounts of caffeine
- and all the other things that make me happy.

The reason why I wrote I Never Say No was because I wanted to challenge myself.

I wanted to finally write something where I wasn't concerned with how I came across.

I wanted to be bratty and dramatic and not care about whether I seemed annoying to people.

The song is honestly just 3 minutes and 23 seconds of me complaining, and I love it.

When I wrote 'INSN' with my producer, we listened to a lot of Paramore + Olivia Rodrigo.

One song stood out to me though and that was 'Celebrity Skin' by Hole. I loved the space between the guitars & I thought it was so angsty and messy and I really wanted to incorporate that kind of sound into 'INSN'

MY FAV LYRIC:

"I'm so hardly self aware

And I think that so much is so unfair

And I hate myself in pictures

And I can't admit a single thing to myself

And every song I write is about somebody else"
